DUBLIN REVOLT APPEARS BROKEN

Main Body of Irish Insurgents Surrenders.

LEADERS ISSUE PROCLAMATION

Advice to Followers to Lay Down Their Arms Is Being Circulated All Over the Country—Property Damage in Dublin May Total Ten Million Dollars.

Kingston, Ireland, May 1.—The main body of the Sinn Fein rebels in Dublin surrendered.

There was, however, considerable fighting in Dublin and the suburbs. It was especially severe at Ballsbridge, outside Dublin.

The rebels in the college of surgeons also surrendered.

Among the 700 prisoners so far taken is the Countess Markievicz.

Although the principal leaders of the rebel movement have laid down their arms and advised their followers to acquiesce in an unconditional surrender there is no doubt that there will be still great difficulty in restoring peace in Dublin and the surrounding districts, for numerous small bands of rebels evidently either have not received the leaders' orders, or doubt the authenticity of the orders, and have, at any rate, determined to continue guerrilla warfare.

HEAVY DAMAGE AT DUBLIN

Property Loss From Revolt Estimated at $10,000,000.

Dublin, May 1.—Although it is impossible to obtain definite information as to the damage done here as a result of the Sinn Fein's revolt a conservative estimate places it at something more than £2,000,000.

The prisoners taken by the troops can be dealt with under provisions of martial law, unless the government decides on leniency.

Correspondents who are assembled in the Northwall quarter were unable to communicate with headquarters. Officers returning from the fighting area reported everything quieter than for several days and confirmed the belief that the military have the situation well in hand.

TAKE OVER SEVEN HUNDRED

Troops Capture Many Rebels in the Irish Capital.

London, May 1.—The statement by the official press bureau on the Dublin situation follows:

"Seven hundred and seven prisoners have been taken, including the Countess Markievicz.

"The general officer commanding in chief of the Irish command has reported the situation in Dublin much more satisfactory. Throughout the country there was much more to be done, which would take time, but he hoped that the back of the rebellion had been broken.

"Messengers were sent out from the rebel leaders in Dublin to the rebel bodies in Galway, Clare, Wexford, Louth and Dublin counties, ordering them to surrender, and priests and the Royal Irish constabulary are doing their utmost to disseminate this information.

"As regards the situation in Dublin rebels from the areas of Sackville street, the postoffice and the four courts are surrendering freely."

AUTO PLUNGES INTO LAKE

Two Persons Drowned While Returning From Dance.

St. Paul, May 1.—Leonard Knowlan and Miss Clara Steverson were drowned in Lake Vadnais when their automobile plunged from the Rice street road into the lake. The lives of four other occupants of the machine were endangered.

All were thrown into the water, but clambered to safety.

The party was on the way home from a dance at Mounds View when it is believed the steering gear broke and the driver lost control of the machine. The car jumped from the high embankment and plunged into the waters below.

The bodies of Knowlan and Miss Steverson were entangled in the mud and weeds that line the bank.

WAITE TO BE TRIED MAY 15

Dentist Is Charged With Poisoning Father-in-Law.

New York, May 1.—Present intentions of District Attorney Swann are to begin May 15 the trial of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, charged with murder in the first degree in poisoning his father-in-law, John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, Mich. He will ask for a special panel of 150 talesmen.

EARL ST. ALDWYN.

Veteran English Statesman Dies at His Country Home.

London, May 1.—Earl St. Aldwyn, a veteran English statesman, twice chancellor of the exchequer and twice chief secretary for Ireland, died at his country home. He was born in 1837.

FRENCH MAKE GAINS IN INFANTRY ATTACK

London, May 1.—The French and Germans on several sectors to the northwest of Verdun have been engaged in relatively heavy infantry fighting, with the results evidently in favor of the French.

To the north of Dead Man's hill the French seized a German trench and captured fifty-three prisoners and to the north of Cumieres made a similar gain in which thirty prisoners were taken.

Berlin says that strong French attacks from Dead Man's hill to the northern part of the Caurettes wood were repulsed.

On the remainder of the French front, except for small infantry attacks, notably in the Vosges mountains and in the region of Lassigny, bombardments alone have been in progress.

BRITISH FORCE SUCCUMBS

General Townshend's Army Capitulates to the Turks.

London, May 1.—A Constantinople dispatch, received by way of Berlin, says the vice chief commander of the Turkish army announces that the British garrison at Kut-el-Amara, under General Townshend, which surrendered unconditionally, numbered 13,309 men.

The eventual surrender of General Townshend had been expected since the failure of the forces under Lieutenant General Gorringe and General Keary to break through the Turkish position at Sannayat, just below Kut-el-Amara, and the unsuccessful attempt to send the blockaded army provisions by steamer.

It had been touch and go with the small British force for many days.

The position of Kut-el-Amara, which is on a peninsula extending into the Tigris river, made it impossible to send supplies by air, as there was no landing for aeroplanes.

TEUTON RAIDER AT LARGE

War Risk Rates in New York and London Stiffen.

New York, May 1.—War risk insurance, both in this city and in London, stiffened as the result of a report in financial circles that another German commerce raider had slipped through the British sea patrol.

The raider is reported to have escaped during the recent bombardment of British east coast towns by a German battle cruiser squadron.

BRITISH CASUALTIES 20,511

Record for April 1,255 Officers and 19,256 Men.

London, May 1.—British casualties last month, as compiled from published lists, are slightly in excess of those in March.

The total from all fields of operation is 1,255 officers and 19,256 men, compared with 1,107 officers and 19,317 men in March.

TO SALVAGE SUNKEN GOLD

Company Is Formed to Raise Seagoing Ships.

New York, May 1.—The Inter-ocean Submarine Engineering company has been incorporated with a capital of $125,000, to raise ships from the ocean bed or salvage their contents.

The company will begin work on ships sunk along the Atlantic seaboard.

GERMANY DOES NOT WANT BREAK

Berlin May Yield to American Demands.

LONG DISPATCH FROM GERARD

Ambassador at Berlin Is Reported to Have Sent Communication to Washington Setting Forth Emperor William's Views on Submarine Warfare.

Chicago, May 1.—That Germany has no desire for a break in relations with the United States and substantially will meet the wishes of the American government in connection with her future operations of submarines against merchantmen is the understanding of high officials at Washington as a result of the secret exchanges which have taken place between the two governments during the past week. John O'Laughlin says in a dispatch from Washington to the Herald.

O'Laughlin's dispatch follows: "Coming over the wires is a long dispatch from Ambassador Gerard, setting forth the views expressed by Emperor William and his response thereto. The state department received a cablegram, notifying it that the dispatch had been filed. This was in plain English. The message now being received is in cipher.

"Enough has been translated to show that the emperor's reception of the American ambassador was friendly, though there was no doubt of the imperial belief as to the necessity of continuing submarine operations.

"The understanding of the department is that the kaiser's talk with Mr. Gerard was for the direct information of the president. In other words, the head of the German empire, preliminary to a formal answer to the American note, has taken the diplomatic situation out of the hands of his advisers and has addressed himself directly to the task of placating the head of the American republic.

Will Await Formal Note.

"Until the emperor's views are before the president and the formal note from Germany is at hand the president will be unable to decide what steps to take. It is perfectly evident that the aim of the German diplomats is to place squarely upon the shoulders of Mr. Wilson the responsibility for any rupture of relations.

"Mr. Wilson is willing to accept the responsibility, as he indicated in his note of April 18, but if he prefers a break shall come no doubt can exist in any mind as to German culpability.

"Germany insists she has not had and is not now inspired by any purpose to prosecute 'relentless and indiscriminate warfare' against vessels of commerce. She claims she was forced to adopt the methods which have given offense to this country by the unprecedented and lawless acts of the British government, which has endeavored to weaken her by warring upon the innocent noncombatants of the central powers.

"Out of consideration for the United States she has made assurances that liners would not be sunk without warning unless they resisted or attempted to escape within the 'war zone' about the British isles and similar assurances with respect to all vessels plying in the Mediterranean sea.

"These assurances Germany does not hesitate to reiterate and to declare that they will be binding upon commanders of all submarine craft. Instructions to this end have been issued through the admiralty to the operating submarine."

ALL SHIPS ARE TO BE SUNK

None Carrying Food to England Will Be Allowed to Escape.

Rotterdam, May 1.—The captain of the Dutch ship Berkelstrom, which was sunk in the North sea, April 23, by a German submarine, is quoted by the Nieuw Rotterdamse Courant as declaring that the commander of the undersea boat told him the Germans intend to sink all ships of every nationality carrying food to England.

A NEW IDEA

In Serving Church Suppers Evolved by the Ladies of the First Presbyterian Church

A new idea in the serving of church suppers has been exemplified by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church. On Saturday evening, pay day night, they served an excellent supper in the Trades & Labor hall.

All its spacious rooms were occupied by the Ladies Aid. The first room to the right was set apart for the business men, clerks and others who would have to be busy after supper and whose time was limited. They were served with the greatest of dispatch.

In the large hall adjoining were served those who had more leisure. In that place was also displayed a lot of fine needlework, etc., which quickly sold at fair prices.

The supper was pronounced by all who participated as one of the most excellent ones given in the city. The ladies received many compliments.

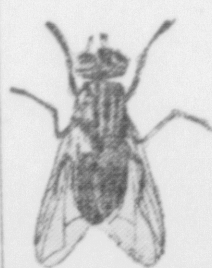

Womens Guild

The Womens Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church will meet with Mrs. J. R. Smith, 423 North Broadway on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The annual report will be read. At 3 o'clock the annual election of officers will be held.

MOZART STUDY CLUB PROGRAM

Chaminade, Liszt, Moszkowski, Mendelssohn, Wagner and Raff Compositions to be Given

1ST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Members of the Club Have Worked under the Direction of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone

Music lovers of Brainerd will be afforded one of the most rare opportunities of listening to a brilliant program to be given in the First Congregational church on Friday evening, May 5. For months the Mozart Study club under the direction of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone have worked laboriously to give an artistic and pleasing interpretation of some of the world renowned composers.

Chaminade, Liszt, Moszkowski, Mendelssohn, Wagner and Raff will be among the selections to be interpreted.

Mrs. Johnstone is too well known to the public to repeat that she is an artist in classical interpretation; and has spared neither time nor effort in training the personnel of the club to a degree of high proficiency.

MISS MILDRED SKAUGE

The members of the club are the Misses Mildred Skauge, Evelyn Erickson, Ida Peterson, Gladys Nitterauer, and Lillian Nelson. The full program will be printed in the Dispatch on Thursday evening. The issues up to that time will contain brief analyses of the selections to be rendered.

One of the features of the program will be the use of two pianos and the eight hand pieces; these selections are brilliant in composition and also their rendition; rising from the pleasing pianissimo to the more thrilling fortissimo.

Miss Mildred Skauge will interpret Mendelssohn's Concerto, Capriccio Brilliant Op. 22. This is one of the very popular compositions of Mendelssohn; like most of his works its symmetry is perfect, free from elaborate embellishment and confusing complexity; reminding one of the earlier Greek architecture, restful but satisfactory.

To add to the more perfect interpretation of this concerto, Miss Gladys Nitterauer will play the orchestral part on the second piano.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. parlors. A good attendance is requested.

AT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

C. Bruhn Gives Comprehensive Report of Austin Convention

C. Bruhn, one of the delegates to the 58th Minnesota State Sunday school conventions, held at Austin, Minn., April 26th to 30th, has returned and reports a most successful time in every respect. The people of Austin had left nothing undone to make it a success. Committees, with autos met every train and took the delegates to the Methodist Episcopal church which was the headquarters for the convention.

Autos were at all times ready at the churches to convey the delegates to any part of the city. The homes had been opened to receive the visitors, and though some 1300 delegates were in attendance, every one was cared for promptly and satisfactorily. Lunches and dinners were served by several of the churches which made it very convenient for everybody.

Brainerd had seven delegates, four from the Swedish Baptist church and three from the First Congregational church.

The program was most interesting, and some of the best Sunday school experts took part. Dr. Geibel (the blind musician) and J. Lincoln Hall of Philadelphia, both of whom

Methodists to Name Many Bishops

(By United Press)

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 1.—As the quadrennial session of the Methodist General Conference opened here today to continue through the month, interest became keen about who will be the bishops.

The conference will elect six, perhaps seven bishops, and perhaps more. If a new law is enacted permitting bishops for races, it is assumed a negro bishop will be chosen.

One of the clergymen who is expected to be elected a bishop is the Rev. Dr. Ezra S. Tiptoe, president of the Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J. Dr. Tiptoe is chairman of one of the conference committees.

Perhaps the next most talked-of man for bishop is the Rev. Thomas Nicholson of New York, secretary of the Methodist board of education.

Dr. James Roscoe Day, chancellor of Syracuse University, will attend. Dr. Day is the only living man in the history of Methodism ever elected to the bishopric who refused the honor.

Another candidate for bishop is the Rev. Dr. Franklin Hamilton, chancellor of the American Methodist University at Washington, D. C. He is a brother of Bishop John W. Hamilton of Boston.

The Rev. Dr. L. J. Birney, dean of the Boston Methodist School of Theology, is said to have his hat in the ring.

Friends of the Rev. Dr. Allan MacRossie, superintendent of the New York district, have episcopal aspirations for him.

There is some gossip that Professor F. Watson Hannan of Drew Seminary, may receive a good vote. He was until a few years ago pastor of one of the largest churches in Brooklyn.

Many leading Methodists are of the opinion that some of the new bishops should be chosen among men who have "made good" only as pastors.

Among the pastors being advocated is the Rev. Dr. Andrew Gillies, pastor of Hennepin Avenue church, Minneapolis. His salary is $7,500—larger than that of any other pastor and as large as the bishop's salaries.

Other pastors who are possibilities are the Rev. Dr. Charles D. Mitchell, of St. James' church, Chicago; the Rev. Dr. Matt S. Hughes, of Pasadena, Cal., a brother of Bishop Edwin F. Hughes of San Francisco, and the Rev. Dr. Charles Wesley Burns of Germantown, Pa.

The Rev. Dr. Bertrand S. Tiptoe, pastor of the American Methodist church in Rome, may be made bishop for Southern Europe. He is at present in this country. Dr. Ezra S. Tiptoe is his brother.

Mint Sauce.
Pick all the leaves from a large mint stalk and mince as fine as possible. Place in a large bowl with six tablespoonfuls of sugar, three-fourths of a pint of vinegar, one-half pint of cold water and one tablespoonful of salt. Mix thoroughly with a wooden spoon; then place in a large bottle, cover tightly; shake the bottle always before using.
Instead of the ordinary "pebbles" "apple sauce" the addition of mint turns it into a highly tempting dessert.

ON MOVING.

Common Sense Hints to Make a Bore Somewhat Easier.

Few people move right, and it is a good plan to know how to pack things for moving, even though you are not threatened this year. When you know you are going to move begin at once to save newspapers and boxes. Several small boxes are more practical than the huge packing cases sometimes used. They are not so hard to handle and consequently receive better treatment. For the same reason barrels are more advisable than boxes for dishes or fragile articles. If boxes are used for this purpose they should be conspicuously marked. When preparing pictures or mirrors for shipment it is considered a good plan to wrap and crate them instead of boxing, so people handling them can see what they are. In the same way a strip lid adds to the security of the box of glass fruit jars or similar articles. Books should be packed in small, strong boxes. Of course the way things are packed depends largely upon their destination. When hauled in a van they require comparatively no packing, the movers assuming all responsibility for scratches and breakage. When preparing for shipment the packing cannot be too carefully done. This work should also be guaranteed. In case your effects comprise more than one load it is essential that the first one should contain the carpets, the dining room and kitchen equipment, for, while they are the last things needed in the old house, they will be demanded first in the new. The importance of carefully made plans cannot be too highly emphasized, nor can the advantages to be derived from securing the expert and competent services of a reliable moving concern.

Goodhue County

The first newspaper printed in Minnesota made its appearance less than two months after the passage of the act organizing the territory and before the territorial officers arrived. This was the Minnesota Pioneer of April 28, 1849, and its editor was James Madison Goodhue, a native of New Hampshire, who had just moved his press from Lancaster, Wisconsin to St. Paul. Goodhue's vigorous editorials made him many enemies, and one, in 1851, led to a personal encounter in which he was twice stabbed and his opponent was shot. Although he recovered from the wounds he died in August, 1852. The following spring the legislature named a county in his honor.

S. R. Van Sant's name has been connected with the United States senatorship, but he has announced that he is not a candidate and occupied a seat on the stage at Rochester at the opening of F. B. Kellogg's senatorial campaign.

Advices from St. Paul say that the price of coal was boosted 50 cents a ton commencing today and that the advance is liable to be general throughout the northwest. Labor troubles of mine operators are blamed for the boost.

Shortage of dyes, caused by the European war, has hit the United States postage stamps. On the 2-cent stamp the head of George Washington, which was formerly set off with a bright red for a background, is outlined against a pale pink in the new stamp issues.

The Pillager Herald in speaking of the Little Falls gentleman who is a candidate for the republican nomination for congress says: "Friends of C. B. Buckman all over the Sixth district are giving him their loyal support because they know he is a man who can do things."

Wahpeton is a progressive city, their white way is completed and paid for and the principal business street is to be paved, 22 business men and property owners having signed the petition for the improvement the first day. Paying with good intentions does not go in Wahpeton.

The government at Winnipeg wants 1,000 men to work on the Hudson Bay railroad, the building of which was resumed today. Canada has sent so many men to war that it is difficult to find enough to take up the laborers jobs and continued appeals are sent to the States for help.

C. D. Wright is a subject for political adoption at Fergus Falls, where he was formerly president of the First National bank. Mr. Wright advertises in the newspapers that he will become the candidate of the political party giving him the best chance for election to the legislature. This is probably a new feature of the primary election law so popular (?) throughout the state at present.

Railroad business in the northwest has been the best ever known in the history of the Northern Pacific profits for March being $2,987,056.46, and it has been six years since these figures have been approached. The earnings of the road for that month were $6,470,535.31 and the expense for the month was $3,483,478.85, and the April business will show almost as good results.

The office of the clerk of the district court of Crow Wing county will not be affected by the decision of the supreme court declaring the act of the legislature of 1915 which provided for the extension of the tenure of office to the clerks in 35 counties until the first Monday in January of 1919, as unconstitutional. Clerks of the court in the counties affected will have to submit their candidacy to the voters at this fall's election again.

W. W. Latta, who for many years had charge of the mechanical department of the Dispatch, has gone into business for himself at Luverne, having bought the Journal at that place and taken charge of the plant as editor and publisher. The Journal is one of the leading papers of Rock county and the new publisher should succeed in his new field of labor as his knowledge of the business is thorough, and the Dispatch bespeaks for him the good will and fellowship of the people of Luverne and vicinity.

Senator Knute Nelson criticizes the rural credit law before congress and points out many defects in the pending bill. He declares that the system on account of its cumbersome and intricate machinery would not be taken advantage of in the west or middle west, or in New England. One of the objections as cited is that the man who owns a farm and rents it cannot get a loan on it from the farm association.

"We have in Minnesota many prosperous farmers who have reached old age," he said. "One wants to quit working the farm and yet wants it to remain in the family. He rents it to one or two of his boys. He cannot borrow money on his farm, under the bill."

Another objectionable feature is that permitting the loan association to retain a portion of the deposit made by an applicant for a loan when the application is rejected. Senator Nelson also objected to the language of section 24, which "directs" the secretary of the treasury to make advances to the farm loan banks.

FRENCH REPULSE GERMANS

(By United Press)

Paris, May 1—An official statement says that following the most violent bombardment the Germans launched a close formation attack against the trenches the French recently gained near Deadman's hill, but the French fire broke the assault. BRITISH LOSSES 20,000

Berlin, May 1—An official report says that the fierce fighting at Deadman's Hill yesterday did not result in any change in the situation.

GETTING POTASH FROM NEBRASKA LAKES

Lincoln, Neb., May 1—A company has been organized to take potash from the briny lakes in western Nebraska, northeast of Alliance. There has been a potash famine ever since the war cut off the German supply and boosted the price from $39 to $500 a ton. The water in these lakes contains a strong solution of potash.

SOCIALIST LABOR LEADERS PICKED

New York, May 1—Arthur F. Reimer of Boston was nominated for president of the United States and Caleb Harrison of Chicago was nominated for vice president by the Socialist Labor party, in convention here. Both nominations were unanimous.

A resolution was passed urging employees to organize industrially "on the principles of the workers of the international industrial union and do all in their power to show the fallacy of craft unionism as exemplified by the American Federation of Labor," which was characterized as "a mere watch-your-job-and-boost-your-pay organization."

A platform was adopted asserting that the present system of "economic inequality" is destructive to the life, liberty and happiness of the working classes and declaring that the means of production "must be owned, operated and controlled by the people in common."

CONFEREES ARE MARKING TIME

Mexicans Desire Withdrawal of American Troops.

SEND WORD TO WASHINGTON

American Representatives Report Result of First Interview and Are Awaiting Further Instructions Before Again Entering into Negotiations.

El Paso, Tex., May 1.—Mexican and American conferees over the disposition of the American forces in Mexico marked time while Generals Hugh L. Scott and Frederick Funston awaited word from Washington as to the next step to be taken in the negotiations with General Obregon.

The report of the American representatives on the first conference went forward by wire.

From stray bits of information that became known it appears that Saturday's conference ended with the question of withdrawal of the United States troops still uppermost in the minds of the Mexican conferees.

They are understood to have tried to impress on the American representatives their claims that politics in Mexico that they cannot be responsible for any eventualities that may result from continued occupation of Mexican soil by American columns.

They are said also to have laid stress on the fact that the position of the Carranza government would be extremely delicate if the expeditionary movement were not ended.

In view of the already expressed attitude of the Americans that they were unable to discuss any other question than co-operation of the two armies in dispersing the various bandit bands the next step was to attempt to reach a basis on which both sides might meet.

Washington's answer to the telegram dispatched by Generals Scott and Funston is expected to divulge whether such a basis can be established.

In some quarters there was a disposition to believe that the next conference will deal with the question of withdrawal, but that so far as the American conferees are concerned the subject will be approached with reserve. It is pointed out that there has been no disposition shown by the American government to consider the mission of General Pershing's columns as having been ended.

SCHALL TO TEST RULING

Will Appeal to Courts if Party Petition Is Rejected.

Minneapolis, May 1.—Congressman Thomas D. Schall of the Tenth district announced that he will file for reelection as a Republican, if there is any way that it can be done. Julius A. Schmah, secretary of state, is expected to reject the filing because Mr. Schall was elected two years ago as a Progressive. The law requires a candidate to make affidavit that he "affiliated with the party at the last election."

"I don't think it would make any difference as to my election, whether I ran as a Progressive or as a Republican," said Mr. Schall. "But I think the time has come to get together and I would rather see all but one man eliminated in the primaries to oppose the Democrats."

"I am not going up against a stone wall, but if I decide that it can be done I will offer my filing as a Republican and carry it to the supreme court for a decision. I will ask to have the matter settled immediately, so that if the court rules against me I can file as a Progressive before May 10."

SITUATION STILL SERIOUS

Small Bands of Rebels Are at Large in Dublin.

Dublin, May 1.—Dublin is filled with small bands of rebels, located in tenement houses and other buildings, who always have been able to escape by subterranean passages as soon as the attack of the soldiers has proved too strong and who then reopen hostilities from some unexpected quarter.

That the situation in Dublin was still regarded as dangerous Sunday night, despite the surrender of a majority of the rebels, was indicated by the fact that few persons were permitted to penetrate into the city through the rigid military cordon which surrounds it.

MONTANA'S INTEREST CENTERS ON PRIMARY

Billings, Mont., May 1.—Interest in Montana politics turns to the gubernatorial and senatorial issues. On the Democratic ticket Governor S. V. Stewart is opposed for renomination by Miles Romney, a Hamilton editor, while Ed Conney, editor of the Great Falls Leader, is the first announced Republican aspirant.

Former Attorney General Albert J. Galen of Helena is regarded as a likely candidate if harmony follows the Chicago conventions of the stalwart and progressive Republicans.

Dr. A. L. Leighton of Boulder, former president pro tem of the state senate, is in a similar frame of mind and doubtless all three names will appear on the primary ballots in August. For the United States senatorship Senator Meyers will be a candidate to succeed himself. He will be opposed by Joseph Kirachwing of Great Falls. Both are Democrats. J. E. Edwards, Republican floor leader in the state senate for the past decade, is the leading Republican aspirant. Joseph M. Dixon, Roosevelt's campaign manager, may become a candidate later.

Colonel Roosevelt Talks to Illinois Bar Association.

Chicago, May 1.—Americanism is on trial, with the national character in the balance, Theodore Roosevelt said in a preparedness appeal here to the people living in the territory "between the Alleghenies and the Rockies."

The former president, speaking before the Illinois Bar association, discussed "National Duty and International Ideals," alluding to conditions in Mexico and in Europe and urging industrial and social as well as military preparedness.

The declaration by Mr. Roosevelt that the ultimate answer to the question of preparedness in this country must be universal training was greeted with a storm of cheers and applause.

A cloud of napkins and menus was thrown into the air while the banqueters shouted their approval.

ST. PAUL PHYSICIAN DEAD

Dr. Charles W. Wheaton Will Known in Northwest.

St. Paul, May 1.—Dr. Charles W. Wheaton, prominent St. Paul surgeon, died at St. Joseph's hospital. Death was not unexpected as he had been critically ill for several days.

Dr. Wheaton was born in Syracuse, N. Y., March 17, 1853. He was a graduate of Harvard Medical college, class of 1877. In 1878 he moved to St. Paul and was soon recognized as the foremost surgeon of the Northwest.

In 1891 he entered into partnership with Dr. John T. Rogers. His health forced him to retire from active practice eight years ago.

For many years Dr. Wheaton taught didactic surgery at the University of Minnesota and was professor emeritus of surgery there at the time of death.

The Swiss System Military Training

NOTE—This is the first of a series of five articles by Shepherd dealing with the Swiss system of military training for citizens in its relation to the possibilities of a similar system in the United States.—Editor.

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Berne, May 1.—The men of Switzerland aren't soldiers, in peace times. They are only citizens who know how to be soldiers if they have to. The United States doesn't need 4,000,000 soldiers. What it does need is 4,000,000 men who know how to be soldiers, in case the need arises.

"I had a boy in college," wrote the father of a young British soldier. "One day he ran off and enlisted in a London foot regiment. After three months' training his regiment was sent to Flanders. He was killed at Ypres. I am telling you this to help you preach the gospel of compulsory training, not conscription."

"I am grieved and proud about my boy. But I feel that his regiment did not have a sporting chance. They only knew how to go on and die. I feel that the men in England who oppose compulsory military training are guilty of a greater felony than those who sank the Lusitania."

This is the sort of feeling I find, this feeling expressed by this father, that brought about a compulsory military training in Switzerland.

Here in Switzerland where, under the marvelous system of military training, a fifth of a million of the finest soldiers in Europe were placed on the frontiers of their country to guard them before the first shots at Liege had died down, you get it driven back into your American mind that compulsory military training isn't intended to create soldiers. It's purpose is to create a nation of fine, strong young men and hale, hearty old men who will know how to be soldiers if an enemy forces them to play that role.

The Swiss aren't fussy; they don't love fighting. All these years of learning how to be soldiers, if the need comes, has taught them that fighting is no picnic and that it does not pay to start a row just for the sake of rowing.

The Swiss are not a fighting nation, like the Serbs, for instance and yet, man for man, the Swiss army is the equal of any army in the world. Every citizen in the ever-fighting Balkans is a soldier; a potential killer. That's one of the troubles with the Balkans. But every citizen of Switzerland, because of his scientific training, is a citizen who'll be a soldier only when some enemy drives him to play that role.

That's the big reason Switzerland is at peace today.

It would cause an upheaval in the United States to put the Swiss military system into effect there. In fact we couldn't transplant it in its entirety. There are some things about it that Americans wouldn't like. One of them is the little blue book.

IT NOW IS CHEAPER TO PAY RENT THAN MOVE

St. Paul, Minn., May 1.—It's going to be cheaper to pay rent than to move, in St. Paul, after today. Transfer men materially raised the transfer rates on all subjects. It's "on account of the war," they say. Harness and other equipment has been advanced in price by the war, say the transfer men.

SHAKESPEARE WAS SHREWD.

Poet Was an Excellent Business Man, but Fond of Ligation.

One reason may be given for Shakespeare not publishing his plays, and we have reason to think it was of a kind to appeal to him. There was no copyright, and to publish the plays was to lessen their financial value to his company. This "gentle Will," this "sweetest Shakespeare," this "Swan of Avon," was an admirable man of business. If we had only the records of the law courts, in fact, we might not be able to think so very well of him. He had a keenness for litigation which he seems to have inherited from his father. As a taxpayer he was slow, if not positively evasive. He was apparently negligent of a debt contracted by his wife. Like many men of property, he evaded the restrictions against brewing malt liquor for his private use, being in his way a moonshiner.

Liberal in giving aid and lending money to his friends in need, he was strict in collecting debts. At about the time he wrote the final version of "Hamlet" he sued the village apothecary at Stratford to recover a small loan, and while he was at work on the world tragedy of "Antony and Cleopatra" he engaged in litigation that brought him in conflict with the village blacksmith, a state of affairs that

Emerson relates with something akin to horror. He conspired with his father to secure from the conniving Herald's college a shady coat of arms and the right to subscribe himself "gent." and, while apparently not actively aiding an attempt to inclose Stratford common lands in defiance of the rights of the people, he at best remained strictly neutral toward the project.

Careless as he seems to have been as to his fame as a dramatist, he was in business by no means above current standards of conduct. One gathers that the chief interest of his later years was to live at ease as a gentleman and provide well for his family. It is related on pretty good authority that he died of "a favour" after "a merry meeting" at Stratford with his old friend Ben Jonson and the poet Drayton. But it is not unlikely that the true cause of his fever was not drink, but the insanitary condition of the street in which he lived.—John Corbin in New York Times.

HER HUNDRED DOLLAR BILL.

It Was Money Hoarded and Yet It Was Money Flung Away.

In the American Magazine we read the following: "Mrs. Davis came into possession of a $100 bill. Prizing this money because it was the first she ever earned, she kept the original bill in her possession, most of the time on her person. Only a short time before her death were her relatives aware that she still had the bill."

"When a little girl, nine years old, she deposited $10 in a savings bank and received a pass book. She carried this book with her for seventy-five years. Three weeks before her death she told her grandson she was curious to know if the bank was still doing business and what had become of her deposit. A letter giving the number of her pass book, the amount of the deposit and her maiden and present name was written. Just a week from the day the letter was posted a reply was received to the effect that the deposit, together with the accrued interest for seventy-five years, amounting in all to $235.95, was in the bank for Mrs. Davis."

"Had she deposited the $100 bill with a savings bank paying 4 per cent interest compounded quarterly the principal and interest would have amounted to the handsome sum of $601.80. The $100 bill would have earned for her five other $100 bills."

"Her investment at nine years of age multiplied itself for her thirty-one times. Her sentiment at the age of thirty-nine, persisted in for forty-five years, deprived her of many comforts in her old age which the $600 would have provided."

J. R. HARRINGTON REPORTS

Three Drill Holes Located in Southeast Quarter of the Southeast Quarter 30-45-30

In answer to a query from Anton Mahlum, president of the Brainerd Booster club, advices have been received from the Minnesota Tax commission as to the drilling that was done by J. R. Harrington of Hibbing, on land which the late Judge G. W. Holland bequeathed to the city and located in section 30, township 45, range 30.

Rukard Hurd, Director of Mines and Natural Resources, writes as follows:

"We have located Mr. J. R. Harrington at Hibbing. He has furnished a written statement and a sketch showing the approximate location of three drill holes sunk on the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 30, township 45, range 30 and the character of the material encountered. I have sketched this information for you on the enclosed form used for our 'Engineer's Report'."

"You will note the following: Drill hole No. 1 went through 150 feet of surface and 108 feet of red chert. Drill hole No. 2 went through 150 feet of surface and 103 feet of red chert. Drill hole No. 3 went through 160 feet of surface and 87 feet of red chert."

"No iron ore was developed by this exploration and Mr. Harrington had no maps or blue prints. He states that no drilling was done on the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter."

The holes in the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter, as shown in the sketch, run diagonally from northwest to southwest, starting with hole No. 1 near the west line of the east half of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter.

Mrs. George Adair and Baby Barely Escape Death as Runaway Team Crashes into Buggy

Mrs. George Adair and baby, seated in their buggy drawn up near the Iron Exchange building Saturday evening, while Mr. Adair was in the building, narrowly escaped death as their buggy was run down by a runaway meat market team of Hagberg & Schneider.

The latter team without a driver plunged up South Sixth street, threading their way past autos and other conveyances and near the Iron Exchange crashed into the Adair team. All four horses went to the ground from the shock. One of the Adair horses was struck in the breast by the pole of the butcher rig. Mrs. Adair with her baby leaped to the ground unharmed.

The whole film showed that wealth alone was not all to be considered in this world and the whole idea was neatly summed up in Mr. O'Brien's observation.

COOKERY FOR AN INVALID

Domestic Science Classes at High School Prepare Gruel and Aluminized Orange Juice

REPORTER SAMPLED AN EGGNOG

Glad to be a Patient—Other Departments Viewed in the High School This Morning

Some kind fate induced the reporter of the Dispatch to go to the high school in search of news and as chance would have it, it was about the time the domestic science classes were getting in their work and toothsome, culinary odors were wafted about, which induced Supt. W. C. Cobb to lead the way downstairs and the visitors inspected the kitchen.

A class of 18 freshmen were just putting the finishing touches to a menu for an invalid. There was corn meal gruel, cracker gruel, aluminized orange juice and hot egg nog.

"Are you willing to be an invalid?" asked the smiling superintendent.

"We are willing to play sick any day to taste some of the toothsome morsels under preparation," said the hungry Dispatch man.

Young ladies then served the egg-nogs. The reporter was given a small spoon, which, it was later ascertained accompanied the glass in this ratio, for a weak invalid, one small spoon, which, it was later ascertained, a large spoon.

It was a most inviting scene in the kitchen of the class room. Grouped about small gas stoves were the girls busy cooking. On the blackboard had been sketched out the menu. There was practical work, plenty of it, and the instruction was imparted in able manner by Miss E. E. Sheldon.

Seventy-five girls of the high school take domestic science. They are taught sewing too. They learn the values of foods, their digestibility, the best ways of preparing and serving.

The greatest success scored by the girls was serving a luncheon at the time of the visit of the state superintendent of instruction, Mr. Schulz, of St. Paul, when he was honor guest and the others present included the whole school board and many of the faculty. That was a real test of cooking and serving ability and the girls came out with flying colors and Mr. Schulz, as well as the others, was highly pleased and he complimented girls, teachers and school.

Two wall ovens have been recently installed. Gas is supplied from a plant ingeniously set in the basement of the building, the janitor being the motive power to wind up the heavy weight which runs the gas converting plant. There are twenty burners in the laboratory and twenty in the domestic science room.

From the domestic science room the visitors went to the room occupied by the agricultural department and saw the pupils at work. Across the hall is the manual training room and there was another revelation.

Twenty girls of the normal training department were using saws, hammers and sand paper, and in all the time the visitors were present not one girl hit her thumb. It was a wonderful demonstration of the successful training of young ladies in a field in which men were previously supposed to be supreme.

In the hall stood an incubator loaded with 125 eggs and Saturday, May 6, has been marked down on the calendar as the debut for 125 chicks.

In the commercial department typewriters were clicking away. In one room sat a girl doing work needed in the school. Girls of the business department wrote many of the circulars, etc., used in "Baby Welfare Week."

The high school of Brainerd, in short, embodies the idea of practical efficiency, the course of study, the method of teaching and the results attained to produce a pupil, boy or girl, equipped to make his or her way in the world.

The schools are always glad to receive visitors and fathers and mothers should make it a point to visit the schools. If you have boys and girls in school and have never visited the schools, you have been guilty of your entire duty.

With so much planned to instruct, to interest, to build up, it is a rare thing to find a truant in Brainerd.

LITTLE FALLS TEAM

Organized for 1916 Season, Opening Game Planned for May 7—

Jay Berkin Manager

(Little Falls Transcript) A baseball team of home players for the 1916 season was organized at a meeting at the city hall Thursday night. Jay Berkin was elected manager, E. V. Wetzel treasurer and Ed Lauermann captain. The team will probably begin its season Sunday, May 7, negotiations being under way for a game with Verdale on that date.

The team will play practically all of its games on Sundays and holidays and the players will get whatever they can make from the gate receipts, with the exception of the pitcher, Harris Gourd of Randall, will be hired to pitch for $12.50 a game. A soliciting committee, with Frank Klewel, Dr. S. R. Fortier and E. A. Berg as members, was appointed to get funds with which to begin the season. They will try to raise at least $350.

Practice will begin Sunday afternoon. Among those who were at the meeting and who expressed their intention of trying for the team are Harris Gourd, Herman Tanner, Ed Lauermann, Dr. C. H. Longley, John Kingen and Guy Kidder. Any players who care to try out are invited to do so. It is planned to bring Roy-alton here for a double-header on the Fourth of July if the games can be arranged and Manager Berkin will get in touch with other teams at once.
